

Bedside Lovers (and Other Goats)

Following the success of FUN RUN AND OTHER OXYMORONS, the quintessential Englishman abroad - who distrusts all beliefs, most thought and anything ending in ism - regales us once again with his dry and hilarious observations on the absurdities of everyday life. If you relish laughing out loud at the expense of the pretentious and the pompous, and like your wit lacerated with insight and compassion, then Joe Bennetts second collection of sparkling vignettes wont disappoint. From tortoise smuggling and culinary fads to bad poetry and the joys of poultry, Joes eclectic range of topics and targets, penned with his trademark shrewd humour, provide a refreshingly new look at the absurdities of our daily lives. In his own words, If anything holds these observations together it is that I like people but not in herds. I distrust all beliefs, most thought and anything ending in ism.
